

Never Too Early For Books

A presentation for parents and caregivers of infants and toddlers

When is the right time to start reading to children? This is a question many families ask, and the answer is simple – start on day one! From the moment a baby is born they are watching, listening and learning about the world around them. Children need partners in the learning process and this is where you come in. Cuddle up with the child in your life to read, sing songs, chant rhymes and tell stories and you will be helping build strong foundation for literacy later in life.

Carol McDougall, a former children's librarian and Director of the Nova Scotia Read to Me! program will talk about when to read, how to read and what to read to very young children. She will talk about how to build good family reading routines and how to select great books for babies and toddlers.

Highlights

- ◆ Parent/child lap time with songs and stories presented by Ontario Early Years Centres
- ◆ Door prizes and giveaways
- ◆ Free child-minding for children over 1
- ◆ refreshments

Location: Delta Secondary School Cafeteria
1284 Main St E, Ham, ON, L8K 1B2

Date: Tuesday, November 10, 2009

Time: 6:30 p.m.—7:30 p.m.

Registration: Hamilton-Wentworth District
School Board
905-527-5092 ext 2291
geri.cote@hwdsb.on.ca

